DESTINATION
SENECA COUNTY

A LIFE CONNECTED

In Tiffin, we are driven by what truly matters in life: being surrounded by those you love most in a place that feels like home.

We learn and grow together here, and connectivity is at the heart of our progress. The connection we feel to our friends and family, and to the place we call our home, moves us to continually work toward a quality of life that everyone can enjoy with ease.

We mean it when we say that everyone is treated like family in Tiffin, as a welcoming spirit of hospitality pervades everything we do. With wholesome values, a strong sense of family pride, and a balanced and simple pace of life, Tiffin is a place you can trust with the foundation of your legacy.

Driven by the loyalty and dedication we have to our home, Tiffin residents are propelled to rally together, work hard and give back. Together, our values ensure that our businesses are supported, our growth as a community continues, and that newcomers and long-time residents alike are able to find a life fulfilled here.

- Togetherness: Making meaningful connections
- Sense of community: We're all in this together
- Feeling of family: Everyone knows each other
- Shared pride in who we are + what we stand for
- Balanced simplicity: Enjoying what matters most in life
- Dynamic perspectives, unified
- Improving, together: Exciting energy, passion and continued growth
- Collaborative teamwork: Making it all possible

Welcome to Seneca County

Discover our rich glass heritage, take up a hobby of train watching, or learn about our multitude of historic places when you visit Seneca County. We are an excellent destination for group tours, families, couples, or single travelers! We are rich in history with our many museums, have several stops for those interested in glass or trains, and are very proud of the growing local businesses in our historic downtown and our county community.

Haunted Tiffin Ghost Walk

hauntedtiffin@gmail.com

hauntedtiffin.com

The Haunted Tiffin Ghost Walk is an after-dark historical tour/paranormal investigation that spotlights seven of Tiffin and Seneca County, Ohio's most legendary — and sometimes slightly sordid — landmarks. Join award-winning author/historian/paranormal investigator Lisa Swickard, psychic medium Lindsey Lawson and a host of other experts as they guide you in this truly unique, entertaining experience as the team explores the phenomena that lies beyond our physical world. Visit the website for more information on tour dates.

Tours include:

Camp Noble, where the 49th Ohio was created during the Civil War
In this tour, you can hear the incredible story surrounding this historic Tiffin venue and the role its soldiers played in some of the bloodiest battles of the Civil War. In addition, this walk introduces visitors to the neighborhood that once was home to some of Tiffin's most unique movers and shakers.

Bettsville, Ohio:

Little Town, Big History

Join us for a walk through the downtown district, visit the house once occupied by a kindly physician who, as a young medical student, was convicted of grave robbing. Stroll through the village's first cemetery and cap off the evening inside the historic mausoleum.

Little Hedges Park, Court Street & Julia Rumsey

The site of the first city cemetery in 1834, Little Hedges Park housed the graves of scores of Tiffinites who fell victim to the 1834 cholera epidemic. Court Street was one of the most eclectic streets in Tiffin. Situated opposite Courthouse square, the area was abuzz with the famous and infamous in Tiffin's rich history. Tiffin's first female physician, Julia Rumsey was a doctor when very few women were admitted to the profession. She had a thriving career here, until a shipwreck in 1865 claimed her life.

Fort Ball, Ketchup Bottle Murder & Brothels

Enter the confines of Camp Ball, the fort built as a supply depot during the War of 1812. Surveyed by Gen. William Henry Harrison, the location was chosen for its close proximity to the Sandusky River and the natural spring that offered a constant supply of fresh water. Visit the site of the former home of Tiffin Millionaire Col. Albert Brewer. In May 1902 the industrialist's life changed forever when he killed a man in a bar fight. The Hotel Monroe was situated across from the railroad depot, it soon gained a reputation as a popular house of ill-fame in Tiffin's red light district. Mattie Ross Nisonger was the most famous madam in Tiffin's history. Her Hotel Berlin was considered a classy "palace of pleasure."

Haunted 1913 Flood Walk

Relive the most harrowing events of the Great Flood of 1913, which still stands as Tiffin's — and Ohio's — greatest natural disaster. Based on Swickard's award-winning book, Calamity and Courage: Tiffin's Battle During Ohio's Deadly 1913 Flood, this ghost walk is sure to be a thrilling tale of those who perished and survived. Across the paranormal realm, this area has proven to be dotted with visits from those who succumbed to those raging waters more than a century ago.

1913 Flood: Kingershirn Property Investigation

The 1913 Flood was tragic for many businesses and individuals in Tiffin, but no families were more devastated than the ill-fated Kingershirn and Knecht clans. This fascinating investigation takes visitors to the actual site where the houses stood, and Swickard recalls the last moments of those poor souls.

"Pair of Shoes & a Beer" Tour

Visit the Tiffin Shoe Factory, also known as the Van Nette Flats, located at the corner of Liberty Street and Riverside Drive. Built in 1871, the factory was known for the manufacture of women's high-button shoes. Eventually, it became the Van Nette Apartments and was home to inventor Jasper Van Nette. After, visit the old railroad bridge, the only surviving bridge after the 1913 Flood. The Mueller Brewery, now Tiffin Scenic Studios, and the Kuebler Home round out this historic tour.

A Winning Combination!

Our facility began in 1998 as Carmella's and offered fine Italian dining. In 2007 we evolved into Carmie's, a casual gathering spot. Carmie's Crew is dedicated to delivering great customer service, awesome food and drinks and is a perfect compliment to Camden Falls Conference Center. Our menu fits all, providing a wide selection of local favorites, as well as the best BBQ around.

Low and Slow is how we Roll!

With our Signature House-made BBQ sauces, our Traditional BBQ items and our famous sandwiches and salads, there's something for everyone!
