

Ever had that light bulb moment of great idea inspiration?

If you've wanted to start a small business but you're thinking, "I don't know where to start," it helps to learn from other people who have done it before, and can help you do it too. Sometimes all we need to get to the next level is someone to flip the switch...

This is where the Small Business Success Series can help!

Each free event will be in person and comply with local health guidelines. The series will be packed full of expert advice and personal stories from 3 different successful small businesses. Whether you're getting started, have already begun, or your passion is all still just a dream, there's something to learn and connections to be made at each event!

You'll have your "lightbulb moment" and leave ready to turn your ideas into a success story. On Saturday, May 22, 2021 join us from 9-11 am for our first event in the series.

Our featured speakers on May 22nd will be:

From Bucyrus, Ohio specializing in family farm raised beef, pork, and poultry products.

Featuring a wide variety of self care products including soaps and lotions made from goat's milk raised on the farm in Bluffton, Ohio.

Alpaca fiber yarns and a selection of other products from Buckeye Star Alpaca Fiber Studio in Bloomville, Ohio.
